Boys' Club to Celebrate Entire Week

Full Program for National Week is Outlined Here

Dr. Julius Kaplan, head of the sponsoring committee for the Palm Springs Boys' Club and Charles M. LaFrantz, director, this weekend announced the schedule of events as the local organization joined with scores of other Boys' clubs throughout the nation in observance of National Boys' club week.

The week will start with an open house today, Monday, for members of the Boys' club, their families and friends.

ANOTHER OPEN HOUSE is scheduled for tomorrow at the Boys' club on East Andreas road for officials, the press and radio.

Wednesday the basketball finals of the Boys' club tournament will be played in the high school gymnasium.

Thursday there will be a motion picture at the clubhouse for all members.

A PARADE, depicting the activities at the Boys' club will be staged Friday.

Saturday morning, members will attend the baseball school at 9 a.m. and in the afternoon will be guests at the Polo Grounds when Seattle and Fort Ord meet on the diamond.

The game is free to all Boys' club members.

SLOGAN OF THE WEEK is "Operation Juvenile Decency."

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, in a message to all Boys' clubs, said that the theme of this year's Boys' club week is extremely appropriate.

"It brings out most clearly the very heart of the problem of juvenile delinquency in the nation today," he said. "This is the need to encourage the concept of decency among our boys and girls."

LA FRANTZ, in a statement in connection with the local observance of the week, said:

"The great majority of American boys are good and decent youngsters and we all can be proud of them.

"But we must remember that by 1960 we will have in this country the greatest number of juveniles in their teens. Only by encouraging our youngsters, who will be these teenagers, to observe the law and to respect the rights of others, will they remain decent juveniles and become good citizens."

EACH ADULT can aid in this program by assisting the clubs and organizations set up by them to do the job.

"In our own community these are the Palm Springs Boys' club and the Youth Center."

Fitzgerald Rites Set for Monday

Simple funeral services will be held today at 3:30 p.m., for Edward Fitzgerald, 73-year-old "Hermit of Palm Springs," at the Chapel at Weifels & Son Mortuary, with the Rev. James H. Blackstone, Jr., officiating. Interment will be in the Palm Springs cemetery.

Fitzgerald died last Tuesday near his cot in the open on the Scout house grounds.

County coroner Ben White and law enforcement agencies were not able to find any living relatives, and even in death the life of Eddie Fitzgerald remains a mystery.

stop and watch and talk with him about his work, he will ask a question: "Where are you from? I'll tell you where in your city or town I have worked."

REPRESENTATIVES of various youth groups were in attendance, and they will form the nucleus for starting their own organization. An organizational meeting will be held at 3:45 p.m., Tuesday, March 29, at the high school, to which all sponsored and unsponsored youth groups will be invited to send representatives. Aiding with the organization will be Isadore Singer of the senior group, who represents the Jewish Community Center.

Formation of the junior group has been under discussion for some time, according to Saul Ruskin, Youth Coordinating council president. It is designed to bring the adult group into closer contact with the youth of the community, and the senior and junior groups may then act as places where the youth may bring their problems.

THE JUNIOR COUNCIL will have its own organization, and is expected to include among its activities the coordination of activities of each separate club or social group.

Members of each council will attend each other's meetings.

Parking District Action Expected Within Week

Negotiations with Liebling Under Way

Decision on Lots in Downtown Area to be Made Soon

Negotiations are now under way to acquire part of the Liebling property for a municipal parking district, and if an agreement is not reached sometime during this week, condemnation proceedings are expected to be started by the City of Palm Springs.

Merchants in the area affected, who would become part of the district and aid with the financing, have expressed preliminary approval of the plan, according to City Manager R. W. Peterson. He and City Attorney Jerry Bunker were authorized by city council Tuesday to proceed with negotiations, and, if necessary, condemnation proceedings.

LIEBLING was present at a meeting held Friday morning between the council-citizen off-street parking committee and merchants. Tentative prices were discussed, but a variance existed, and negotiations are now in progress.

Following the session, Liebling, who represents the Mutual Investment Corporation, owners of the property, said that unless "the city accepts his offer to sell by Wednesday, construction of business buildings planned for the area, will be started."

HE SAID THAT he had offered the property to the city for $200,000. The area affected is approximately 180 feet wide and 239 feet deep, and fronts on Indian avenue and Tahquitz drive. It does not include the Palm Canyon frontage.

Peterson said that under the parking district plan the cost to the city would be two-thirds of the total, and to the merchants one-third. The district would be bounded by Andreas road, Indian avenue and Belardo road.

"The City will proceed as rapidly as possible to acquire the land and establish the district," he said.

THE DRAMA was held Friday afternoon when the power failed on the nose landing gear of their Beechcraft Bonanza, causing it to nose down onto the Palm Springs runway while they were landing.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Eismann did not even suffer a bump as the plane scraped along the runway for about 100 feet before stopping.

Asked about the speed of the time of the incident, he said, "we were traveling as slow as possible."

They came from Caldwell to spend the weekend in Palm Springs.

Eismann is in the hops business in Caldwell.

THE PLANE of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Eismann of Caldwell, Idaho, is pictured at Palm Springs Airport, after the power failed on the nose landing gear and it failed to lock into place as they were landing, causing the aircraft to scrape along on the nose for 100 feet before it stopped. The couple was uninjured. Inspecting the damage is Eleanor Wagner of the airport.

3 MRA Plays to be Presented Starting Sunday

Interest in the work of Moral Re-Armament forces in many parts of the world in combating the spread of Communism, has been stimulated here in Palm Springs with the announcement that three MRA stage plays will be given at the Plaza theater on March 27, 28 and 29. These are the same plays that are being staged in all parts of the free world by MRA.

At 1:16 a.m., PST, today, Monday, Winter faded into Spring.

At present, days and nights but from now until June 21, the start of Summer, days will gradually grow longer.

THE WEEK AGO an audience of 900 representatives of the Swiss government, newspaper editors and members of the Diplomatic Corps attended the premiere performance of "The Man With The Key" in Bern.

Paul Kurovski, Ruh, and Communist for 26 years now working with the MRA group in Europe, was reported in the Swiss press as having made a deep impression on the audience "as a living example of the change possible in trained ideological fighters such as the play portrays."

Professor Hazeght, personal representative of the Shah of Iran at the world assemblies of MRA in Washington, D. C., spoke on behalf of many leading figures among the world's 500 million Muslims "who see in the ideology of MRA the solution of today's world problems."

MANY PALM SPRINGS residents are assisting in the arrangements for the 140 MRA representatives who will be here during the presentation of the stage plays. Among them are Mrs. Jack Ballanger, Mrs. Pearl McManus, Mrs. Charles Farrell, Jock Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Olson and Cliff Henderson of Palm Desert, and Marjorie Main.

The cast of the plays to be given here include many well-known personalities of the stage and screen from many countries including Phyllis Konstam of the London stage; Marion Clayton Anderson, former MGM movie actor; Willi Fueter of J. Arthur Rank films and a leading personality on the European stage; Tom Kennedy of London and Hannelore Krieg of Berlin.

Salvage Drive for DAV Starts Here this Week

Palm Springs Chapter 66 of Disabled American Veterans will this year join in a three-county Salvage Bureau operation. Dr. James E. Potter, commander, and Ray Hillier, adjutant, announced.

The Salvage Bureau has for some years operated in Riverside and San Bernardino counties and in the eastern end of Los Angeles county. It maintains a store in San Bernardino where salvaged articles are reconditioned, repaired and painted for sale. The work is done by disabled veterans and the proceeds from the sales go to aid disabled veterans.

CHAPTER 66 has its headquarters in Palm Springs and its territory includes Desert Hot Springs, Rancho Mirage, Cathedral City, Palm Desert, La Quinta, Indio, Joshua Tree, Cabazon and Banning.

The local DAV leaders urged residents of these communities to check on unneeded articles in their homes or stores and either bring them to the collection center at Villa Victoria, 444 North Indian avenue or telephone Palm Springs 2957 and a truck will be sent to pick them up.

"None of these articles will be sold in Palm Springs," Hillier said.

DATES FOR THE TRUCK pick-ups are limited to 10 days beginning Monday, March 21 and ending March 31.

"We will take anything except newspapers and magazines," Hillier said. "Any canned food donations will be given to needy veterans' families. The other articles will be sold in the DAV San Bernardino store for the benefit of veterans."

Ethel Waters to Appear at Chi Chi in First Coast Show

By DON CABALLERO

Sit back and take a breath. Exhale slowly and then continue to breath that way otherwise you'll be gasping for breath as a result of this announcement.

Ethel Waters — THE ETHEL WATERS — will make her first West Coast appearance in a night club right here in Palm Springs — in the Starlite Room of the Chi Chi March 25.

THIS GREAT SONGBIRD who has thrilled thousands upon thousands of people during her long career on the American stage was signed for her appearance here by nothing more than the ingenuity of one Dave Branower, Irwin Schuman's booking agent.

"I trailed her across the United States by telephone and finally signed her for the Chi Chi," declared the proud Ten-Penter. "And Schuman plans to roll the carpet out for the famous songstress when she arrives."

THERE IS NO DOUBT that she will sing the songs that made her last one-woman show such a great hit in New York. Among them are "Washtub Rusbud," "Supper Time," "Dinah," "Sleepy Time Down South," "The St. Louis Blues" and many others.

And while you are waiting for Ethel Waters to make her appearance there's a little mite of a cutie called Toni Arden, who will thrill you with her unusual style of singing — her interpretation of songs and the voice she possesses that fills the big Starlite Room, all of it from a five-foot songstress, Maxie Furman, the comedian, will jolt you out of every bit of laughter in your body. See that show before it leaves.

Circus Comes to Town March 28

When the Clyde Beatty three-ring circus comes to town next Monday, March 28, one of the big features will be the three herds of performing elephants with Colleen Alpaugh putting one of them through their act. She is rated as one of the top trainers of the massive animals.

The circus comes to town under sponsorship of the Palm Springs Shrine club with afternoon and evening performances at 3 and 8 p.m. at the Airport show grounds.

The Clyde Beatty elephants have been an outstanding feature for many years.

Richard Shipley is head trainer for the three herds assisted by Miss Alpaugh and two other girls.

The double menagerie will be open an hour before the circus starts.

UNEDITED

By BILL RASHALL

We have been looking over this desert in an unedited sort of way for a long, long time now. What was seen has been reported and published in The Desert Sun for those number of years.

This reference is being made regarding progress stories about Palm Springs and its immediate environs. They were good stories well edited, thanks to Phat Grafting, the gentleman I argue with most, and have been for more than a decade until he breaks down and on rare occasions, (he's like the proverbial Scotchman) buys a drink, as a sort of pipe-of-piece gesture.

We can go back into the bound files of the Desert Sun and pick up yarns, many of them based on observations and conversations with people who should know or whose background of experience lends authority to statements made, that this vast expanse of real estate called the Coachella Valley was and still is destined to go places.

ALL OF THIS was brought about in the last two or three weeks by stories that have filtered into The Desert Sun forecasting an even brighter future for this area than was predicted or dreamed of even five years ago.

Quite suddenly reports of economic surveys of this area, and particularly Palm Springs, by four research organizations have reached our ears.

All of them, according to my information, paint this area in rose colored hues. And such reports coming from independent and unbiased sources speak well for Palm Springs.

IT IS PREDICTED, A CONSENSUS OF OPINION INDICATES THAT PALM SPRINGS AND ITS RESORT AREA WILL DOUBLE IN POPULATION WITHIN THE NEXT FIVE TO EIGHT YEARS.

That's terrific! It is more than that—it's sensational!

TERRY RAY, one of our exuberant real estate men who knows what he is talking about said: "None of us can predict how far and how wide the development of this area will take. All I can say is that those who are interested in this area will be happy to sell." He wasn't kidding either. It is the same opinion of a wide cross section of businessmen in this area.

Talking to Jerry Sanborn, our Village surveyor and who knows Coachella Valley like the palm of his hand, said he:

"This entire Valley is bubbling over with sub-divisions. I have enough work piled up to keep my crews busy for the next ten months. Believe me, Palm Springs and to the Southeast of us, the area will show a populace at least twice what it is today within the next five years.

EARL COFFMAN who keeps

an ear darn close to the ground came up with this:

"As far as Palm Springs is concerned, we have gone past the speculative investment point. This community is going ahead in a normal and steady climb. We should hear final reports on the new tramway economic survey within the next few weeks," he added in reply to a question on what's new with the tramway. He is optimistic.

There is no doubt in the minds of anyone here that when the tramway is in operation—an additional shot in the arm will be handed this area, business-wise.

JOHNNY PAGORIA is back in Chicago after a brief two week visit. "Never had a better time in my life. The people here are wonderful and it was a thrill to see so many of my old friends and am deeply grateful for the manner in which I was so warmly received."

Paul C. Holm, a native of Denmark, who has lived four of his eight years in the United States right here on the desert is confronted with a vexing problem, one which he would like to have assistance in solving.

The other day he received 50 Danish flags to be used for decorative purposes commemorating the 150th anniversary of Hans Christian Anderson. "I'm also going to receive some posters, too," he added, "from the Danish consul in Los Angeles. The celebration is world wide. Are there any Danes in this area who would like to help in this event?"

Youths Transferred

Two juveniles involved in Tuesday's Fontana car theft and hit-run property damage here, were transferred to Riverside Juvenile Hall Wednesday.

The boys, 13 and 14 years of age, were arrested after their vehicle had struck a parked car while they were "drag racing."

EARL COFFMAN who keeps

an ear darn close to the ground came up with this:

Jail Sentence Echoes Vagrancy Charge

Glenn Walter Van Fleet, 68, San Diego, arrested on a charge of vagrancy at 2:32 a.m. Thursday, was sentenced to 10 days in the county jail when appearing in Judge Eugene Therleau's justice court later in the day.

He was arrested when found in a vacant lot in the 1300 block of North Palm Canyon drive. The suspect stated he had been drinking wine for a week without eating, according to investigating officers.

Grand Jurors Quiz Lindelef on Discharge

Ousted Building Inspector Heard in Brief Session

Ray Lindelef, recently deposed head of the county building department, appeared before the Riverside County Grand Jury Thursday in a hearing requested by himself and Homer Varner, only supervisor to vote against his dismissal.

Following the hearing, Dr. Benjamin Goldberg, jury chairman, issued the following statement:

"Lindelef was heard by the Grand Jury and various questions concerning the problem were brought up in his presence for him to answer."

"THE JURY has not made its final decision in the matter, but has referred it to the appropriate committee for a study of all possibilities engendered in it, and then it will bring back a report to the entire Grand Jury."

"It is not within the province of the Grand Jury to discuss any of its actions, or the decision made in a closed session."

Regarding other action of the Grand Jury, Dr. Goldberg said:

"ALL COMMITTEES have been directed to start their tasks, and a definite policy outlined as to the type of studies to be made which will give more detailed information concerning departments and their functions, the control of the operation by the heads of the departments, and suggestions which the committee may find will enhance the benefits and services to the public."

Under state law, all departments of the county government must be checked by the Grand Jury.

Harry Oliver's 'Sin' Puts Him in English Magazine

Harry Oliver has now made an English cat magazine, "Cats and Kittens."

The publisher of the Desert Cat Scrapbook didn't do it by himself, like he has in almost every major publication in this country.

It took Sin to accomplish the trick this time.

She urged all directors to stress to everyone the fact that membership is open to anyone. Now look at what the day has Brung!
Let's shout Huray,
for Spring has Sprung.

At 1:16 a.m. (PST) today we barged into the Vernal Equinox and it was Spring. And from now on until June 21 when Summer gets here, the days will be getting longer and longer until we hit the longest day of the year on that day in June. And then it will be closer to vacation time and the days will seem longer even though getting shorter until time to take out.

SPEAKING OF THAT PST brings to mind an unpleasant thought. On April 30, the last Sunday in April, at 2 a.m. we shift again from PST to PDT. PDT means Pretty D (you supply the word) Tiresome. But let's not dwell on that just yet. Let's be glad it is Spring and we are equinoxing. There is a young lady in Palm Springs who is very optimistic. She has written letters to most of the automobile factories declaring that she has seen their beautiful new models and would they please ship her a sample by return freight? Light blue preferred.

AFTER A LONG and inexplicable silence, our Harry Oliver has made the public prints again. He got on the front page of section two of the Los Angeles Times last week with his black winter hat and flowing facial hair. At first I did not recognize the picture although it looked familiar. Then I discovered it was because he did not have his pipe in action. Ed Ainsworth, veteran Times feature writer, in describing the Desert County movement, gave Oliver credit for originating the idea even though "as a joke" and that now the jest had snowballed into real action. Ainsworth, some time ago, was a Desert Rat himself, publishing a newspaper at Coachella called the Barnacle, it being well below sea level and near the Salton Sea. Sometimes it was referred to as the Submarine.

HOWARD CONIBEAR, the sand sculptor, who is attracting much attention at his outdoor "Studio" at Palm Canyon and Tahquitz drives, has an ardent fan in the Village. Mayor Florian G. Boyd and Jimmy Cooper, president of the Lions club which is sponsoring Conibear, both have received enthusiastic letters concerning the sand artist's work. Not only about the sculptor but about the beautiful Palm Springs climate and scenery. The writer said that it was like watching a motion picture—to see the statue grow as the work progressed. Kenneth Brett, Lion's club secretary admonished me to make sure that, in writing about the Lions sponsoring Conibear, that the last syllable in his name rhymes with "air" not "ear."

THE WALL STREET JOURNAL, which probably many of you do not read regularly, recently published the "1040 Glossary." It sets forth that if income-tax forms have reduced you to gibbering, to check your vocabulary (the decent side of it) with the Glossary. The list follows:

Taxes: A state we are all deep in the heart of.

Dependent: Someone who cost you two or three times as much as you are allowed to deduct.

Short Form: Figure of a man who has paid.

Fiscal: A type of pain—fiscal as opposed to mental.

Capital Gains: Washington profits by your success.

Carryover: What you hope your wife will do for you if you get your next paycheck.

Take-Home Pay: 19th-century custom, now outmoded by the tax laws.

"Camille," the MGM classic starring Greta Garbo and Robert Taylor, that had its world premiere here for the opening of the Plaza Theater 19 years ago, is coming back to the Plaza this week for a four-day run. Manager Earle Streebe announced today. It opens on Wednesday night.

Palm Springs went Hollywood for the premiere with kleig lights, movie celebrities, and even the cameramen wearing tuxes.

Robert Taylor and Barbara Stanwyck, Sonja Henie, Tyrone Power, Arlene Judge, Frank Morgan, May Robson, Pete Smith and many starlets were in the glittering throng.

Mrs. Nellie N. Coffman, who arrived with May Robson and Columbian Louella Parsons (then Mrs. Harry Lee Martin), made a speech and Ralph Bellamy acted as emcee inside the theater while Cal Pearce manned the microphone in the foyer to announce arriving stars.

"Camille" has a stellar cast. Besides Garbo and Taylor, the cast includes Lionel Barrymore, Lenore Ulric, Laura Hope Crews, Jessie Ralph, Elizabeth Allan and Henry Daniell.

PUBLISHER'S CORNER

CLEAR AS MUD — If you made enough money last year to keep the wolf from the door you are having to make out a federal income tax return. You begin, of course, by assembling all the figures on your income and deductible expenses during the year. Having assembled those all very carefully you are now ready to make up your return and think you had better read over the instruction sheet. This is where common sense flies out the window with wings like Peter Pan's. The more you read and the harder you study the more confused you become. The instruction sheets and income tax blanks this year seem to be more complicated than ever. I don't know how I can say that because I was never able to understand the ones I tried to make out in previous years.

This is not intended to be a plug for income tax accountants but unless you are a person of superior intelligence and a mathematical genius you will never be able to make up your 1954 federal income tax return some outside help. Being able to compute your tax after finally arriving at your net income is no simple matter. The last time I made out my own return I figured the thing all wrong and on top of everything else made a mistake in simple addition which cost me an unexpected thousand dollar touch about a year later which I found very inconvenient to pay.

Then, too, after reading the instructions about deductible items you have to battle with your conscience over what is and what isn't. About this time I begin wondering if it wouldn't be better to have a federal sales tax on all transactions and not have all this worry every year about making out an income tax return. This would catch everyone except the hoarder and some plan might be devised to collect from Mr. Scrooge also.

They've given us an extra month this year in which to make up our return and send in our money. We should perhaps be thankful for this thirty days grace but I wonder if it isn't just prolonging the agony. It just puts off for another month finding out how much money we will have left for a summer vacation.

KATIE FROM HAITI — Did you notice the names they have given to the storms which will strike the eastern seaboard and Gulf coast during 1955? Since all of them are given female names we might call them the Hurricane Girls. It took many conferences among officials of the Department of Commerce, Air Force, Navy and Civil Aeronautics Administration to reach a final decision about naming these storms. It seems that there was considerable criticism from women by the same names because the 1954 Hurricanes were named Carol, Edith and Hazel. The girls didn't like having their names tagged to such bad behaving namesakes. Nevertheless, the big brass decided to call the 1955 storms as follows:

Alice, Brenda, Connie, Diane, Edith, Flora, Gladys, Hilda, Ione, Janet, Katie, Linda, Martha, Nelly, Orra, Peggy, Quenna, Rosa, Stella, Trudy, Ursula, Verna, Wilma, Xenia, Yvonne, Zelida.

WATER SHOW

Sunday, Shadow Mountain club was the scene of a very colorful water show presented by the University of California, Los Angeles extension. Master performer Steve Mitakis, who placed second in the National AAU Tumbling competition, put on a tumbling and trampoline demonstration aided by Howard Curtis. Both are on the physical education staff at U. C. L. A. In addition to the trampoline work and tumbling, the boys demonstrated fine diving technique on the springboards and towers. As a special treat, the U.C.L.A. water polo team staged an exhibition game. Also on the program was a very neatly executed water ballet performance by some of the representatives of the Women's Physical Education department.

ating Council has been meeting monthly, on the third Wednesday at Ruskin's office, starting at 8 p.m. It has had an active program under way all year, and has changed its operation to where members are representatives of youth activity groups, and it acts as a coordinating agency for these groups.

"We act as a council where agency representatives may exchange views and information, and suggest activities for each group," Ruskin said.

AMONG TOPICS discussed this year, and which are under study, are:

Formation of a "Big Brother-Big Sister" organization to aid youths who need assistance.

Possibility of having the State Board of Mental Hygiene establish an office in the desert area, or increase the frequency of visits here.

Cooperate with the probation department in doing preventive work, and possibly establishing an office in the desert area.

SURVEY WAS conducted by the California Youth Authority of recreational facilities and needs in Palm Springs.

"We will hold meetings to which the public is invited, whenever a program is presented which needs support," Ruskin said. "In the meantime, we will keep the public informed as to our activities, and will welcome any communications to our group. We will then forward the communication to whatever youth group would be most applicable."

AMONG THOSE PRESENT at Wednesday's meeting were: Ruskin; Mrs. Betty Noles, vice president; Paul Summit, corresponding secretary; Henry Greeley, high school principal; Isador Singer, Jewish Community Center; Ted Greene, police department juvenile officer; Police Chief August G. and at his departure from their home they presented him with one of their most prized possessions, a fan which had been the property of the Empress Carlotta and which had been in the family 80 years.

Velarde who is in the insurance business in Chihuahua, was very impressed with Palm Springs. "It is a very beautiful town," he said, and then added, "it is developing very fast."

A complete tour of the city and surrounding area was planned by the group after the luncheon.

THE VISITOR was more interested in talking about Gardner than himself.

"He (Gardner) has become quite well known in Mexico because of his two books written about the country," Velarde said.

"They have quite a selling there," he continued. "Erle sent me a copy of his book, but I never had a chance to read it as friends continually borrowed it. Finally, I went to El Paso and bought several copies to give to my friends, so that I could keep the original and read it."

VELARDE SAID that Gardner's two books have had a very influential effect on the improvement of relations between Mexico and the United States.

The Velardes were guests of Gardner at his Tecmecula ranch and left today for a trip to Los Angeles and San Francisco before returning to Chihuahua.

Others present at the luncheon at the Ranch Club besides Gardner, Mrs. Jones and the Velardes, were Sam Hicks, Gardner's ranch manager, who is writer himself, and Jean Bethel, the author's secretary.

Also pending is a suit in Phoenix for collection of $350,000 on promissory notes signed by Gardner. The twice-divorced Gardner is a mining promoter.

The youths have been taken to juvenile hall in Riverside for appearance in juvenile court.

Byron Nelson Yields to Mannerisms

By ALEX J. MORRISON
Author of "A New Way to Better Golf," Teacher of Champions

FORMER champion Byron Nelson was among the outstanding pros I was able to check with during the recent winter competitions. Byron played in the Bing Crosby event at Del Monte, also the Thunderbird Pro-Member tournament at Palm Springs.

Byron seemed to think that his play over the difficult Cypress Point and Pebble Beach courses compared favorably with the best performances of his career. At Thunderbird his scoring was off by several short putts that failed to drop. "Whenever you strike the ball well you expect the putt to drop," he explained.

As I made action pictures of his swing during his practice before the tournament, I was impressed by the way certain mannerisms stood out in his performances.

The body dip that marked his downswing even when playing at his best now is more pronounced. In its milder form and used when he was much younger and better able to compensate for it, the disadvantage of such a mannerism was minimized. Now it tends to make him strike the ground too much, or somewhat behind the ball.

WHITE WAGGLING his club and just before starting his back-swing his right foot pumps up and down showing tension in the right side and a general nervousness. When I suggested that this was of no help to starting back smooth he agreed.

"I got into that through a feeling of not being sure that I'm going to hit the ball properly. I know it will help me to stop it."

He did stop it immediately and did not repeat it during the time I watched him. However, the following day I watched him from a distance and found that he was again yielding to this and other mannerisms.

I realize that it is par for human nature to indulge in mannerisms, but this doesn't

Former champion Byron Nelson prefers the easier money from exhibitions over the cash in open competition. "It doesn't represent the amount I used to win," he says, "but it sure is a lot easier to earn."

alter the fact that any golfer's success is in direct proportion to his ability to overcome and eliminate personal mannerisms from his playing technique.

Kiwanis Annual Peanut Sale Big Success, Report

Dr. James W. Scott, chairman of the Kiwanis club Committee for Underprivileged Children, said Friday that the annual Peanut Sale staged by the organization Thursday, was a great financial success.

The club sold 3,000 bags of peanuts as members roamed the street with their Gooper Wagon, to swell their fund for aid to youngsters.

Dr. Scott joined with club president, N. K. McDonald, in thanking the public for their generous support of the annual event.

The money raised from this year's Peanut Sale will go toward building a wading pool for children.

Vote from Korea Ends Deadlock in Tribal Election

Laverne Saubel has been re-elected vice chairman of the Tribal Council, Agua Caliente Band of Mission Indians, following receipt of an absentee ballot from Korea.

Mrs. Saubel and Frank Segundo had been tied for the position with 11 votes apiece. The absentee ballot eliminated the need for a special election.

The vote did not affect any other positions on the council or the proposition.

It brought the number of votes cast to 25 out of a possible 27, or 92 percent.

Two State Bills Affect Indians

Two bills have been introduced in the State Legislature which would affect members of the Agua Caliente Band of Mission Indians, Ned Mitchell, Indian agent, reports.

One would restore to Indians hunting and fishing laws which were taken away by federal legislation last year, and the other would recognize by law all Indian custom marriages which occurred prior to December 31, 1954, for probate and inheritance reasons.

Spectacular Desert Setting

A spectacular view of snow-topped San Jacinto and Mt. San Gorgonio, underscored by an acre of sunshine-bright African daisies, was the setting for the chuckwagon breakfast hosted by the Dean Vincents at their Rancho del Sol home Wednesday. The party celebrated the birthday of his sister, Mrs. Eaton N. Frisbie of Williamsport, Pennsylvania.

Date palms added interest to the desert skyline as the guests breakfasted in the imminence ratio of the Vincent home. Jack Boyer and his crew prepared and served one of the chuckwagon breakfasts for which he is known throughout the desert country, with a special menu for the occasion.

Johnny Boyle entertained the guests with his guitar and cowboy songs, with a liberal sprinkling of Oregon songs in deference to the large number of Oregonians among the guests.

A group of guests from the Desert Inn made a trip to Whitewater and enjoyed a fishing picnic with Johnny Boyle as their cowboy host on Thursday.

Picnicking and catching their own fish were the Robert Gays, the Roy Peckhams and Mr. and Mrs. David Forsman all of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Desert Art Center

By JEANE COUTTS ANGUIANO

The Desert Art Center Gallery is buzzing with activity what with the current display of illustrators and comic strip artist's work that has attracted a great deal of attention since it began and the changing of curators.

Artist members wish to express their appreciation and gratitude to Mrs. "Billie" Williamson for her past work and efforts to help make the Desert Art Center a suitable organization for artists and patrons alike. Mrs. Williamson's pleasant personality has made many friends for the Desert Art Center and her kindly greetings will be missed at the Gallery.

Mrs. Helen Beatty Clark, who has replaced Mrs. Williamson as curator of the Desert Art Center Gallery, has begun her duties as such with an incomparable zest and enthusiasm for the benefit of the artists. Mrs. Clark plans to establish a dual jury system for modern and conservative art work which will enable the Desert Art Center member's exhibitions for similar exhibits from various art associations such as the Laguna Beach Art Association which will be the first to participate in the plan. The popular feature of "Artists in Action" will be presented daily at the Desert Art Center Gallery.

is a well accepted attraction which will be visible inside and from outside one of the Gallery's large display windows. The first to begin in this feature is Jana, well known local quick-sketch artist who does pastel portraits in a wink. Following Jana, other well known artists will demonstrate. Mrs. Clark stated that she hoped such fine artists as William Darling and Brownell McGrew would participate in this feature at the Gallery, just as they have at the Art Marts on Saturdays. All artists who wish to participate in the demonstrating series as well as at the Art Marts on Saturdays at the Center are invited to do so.

Billie Burke to Star at Playhouse

Billie Burke, beloved star of stage, screen and the airways, will make a personal appearance this week at the Palm Springs Playhouse, opening tomorrow night in "Mother Was a Bachelor." This will be her first stage appearance on the West Coast in several years.

A sophisticated comedy by Irving Phillips, this play has been presented at the Pasadena Playhouse, Sombrero Theater in Phoenix, and in Palm Beach, Florida, with Miss Burke in the starring role.

Directed by Michael Ferrall, the Playhouse production will have Helen Stenborg, Mary Foskett, Sidney Breese and Susan Seaford, child actress, in supporting roles.

First Nighters will hold their regular Tuesday night dinner, preceding the opening, at the Racquet Club at 6:15 p.m., with Mrs. Thomas Fleming as hostess.

Because of the personal popularity of the guest star, reservations should be made early by calling Playhouse Guild headquarters at 2595.
